The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1,2 and 14-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The limitation with respect to the boom, as set forth in claims 1,14,17 and 20, when the boom is not a claimed element, renders the claims indefinite.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2, and 14-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Prescott. Prescott shows a handle 72, linkage 36,38 and a control assembly at 24.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2 and 14-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Gilmore or Prescott in view of Luscomb. Both Gilmore and Prescott shows the claimed apparatus with the exception of the control handle having a substantially electrically non-conducting material. Luscomb shows a handle 53 having a substantially electrically non-conducting material 52. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the handle of either Gilmore or Prescott with an electrically non-conducting material to enhance the insulation of their apparatus.

Applicant's arguments filed 6.28.04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant stated that the members 36 and 38 of Prescott are not linkages, the examiner disagrees as the elements 36 and 38 are clearly linkages, and applicant should note the definition of the word linkage. Applicant's arguments with respect applicant's disclosed invention but not the claimed invention e.g. the position of the control apparatus etc. are not persuasive as it is the claimed invention that is rejected and not the disclosure.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
